CUSTOMER RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES	Section 403	Page 6

403.10 Responsibility of the Household to Cooperate

- A. The household is responsible for cooperating with the local department to determine eligibility, review its eligibility due to reported changes or recertification, and during quality control reviews.
- B. The household may be denied or its case may be closed for refusal to cooperate with FSP requirements.
- C. For the local department to make a determination of refusal to cooperate, the household must be able to cooperate, but clearly demonstrate that it will not take the required action. For example, a household must refuse to be interviewed and not merely fail to appear for an interview and provide the requested verification.
- D. Effective October 1, 2011, the penalty period for refusal to cooperate with a state QC review is 125 days after the end of the Federal Fiscal Year (the FFY ends September 30 each year and 125 days from that date is February 2).
- E. For Federal QC review non-cooperation the penalty period is 9 months after the end of the Federal Fiscal Year.
- F. In the event that one or more household members no longer resides with a household terminated for refusal to cooperate, the penalty for refusal to cooperate will attach to the household of the person(s) who refused to cooperate.
- G. When QC is unable to determine which household member(s) refused to cooperate, QC shall determine the household member to which the penalty shall apply.
- H. If a household is terminated for refusal to cooperate with a QC review, the household may reapply, but cannot be determined eligible until it cooperates with the QC review.
- I. A household cannot be denied FSP benefits if there is any doubt regarding whether the household refuses to cooperate.
- J. QC determines whether the individual refuses to cooperate.
 1. QC notifies the LDSS via the QC 35 form to impose a penalty.
 2. Effective October 1, 2011, the form identifies the individual who refused to cooperate.
- K. Non Cooperation with a Quality Control Review
 1. Case managers will enter on the STAT screen :
 - Reason code 583 to identify an individual who refuses to cooperate with a federal QC review.
 - Reason code 556 to identify an individual who refuses to cooperate with a state QC review.

DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN RESOURCES FAMILY INVESTMENT ADMINISTRATION	FOOD SUPPLEMENT PROGRAM MANUAL
CUSTOMER RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES	Section 403	Page 7

2. Reason codes (556 or 583) are now applied at the client level. This ensures the penalty follows the non-cooperating individual until the expiration of the penalty period or the individual complies.
3. When reason code 556 or 583 is entered for a child under 18, an error message,

“REASON CODE (556 or 583) CANNOT BE ENTERED FOR CHILD UNDER 18”
is displayed on the STAT screen and the user will not be allowed to proceed until the 556 or 583 code is removed.
4. When an individual coded 556 or 583 on the STAT screen refuses to cooperate with a QC review, the entire household is ineligible as long as the penalized individual remains in the household.
5. When an individual coded 556 or 583 on the STAT screen leaves the household, the remaining household members can have eligibility determined under normal FSP rules.
6. When an individual coded 556 or 583 on the STAT screen leaves the household and becomes a part of another AU, the household becomes ineligible for FSP benefits for the remaining period of ineligibility as long as the individual remains in the household.

Example 1

Mr. Marks, 35, his wife and 5-year old son receive FSP benefits. He refused to cooperate with a State QC review. His penalty period is effective October 15, 2015 and ends 125 days after the end of the federal fiscal year (September 30, 2016). The customer is ineligible through February 2, 2017 unless he complies with the QC review. Mr. Marks leaves the household of his wife and son. His wife and son can have eligibility determined under normal FSP rules.

Example 2

Mr. Marks moves in with his mother and father in November. His parents receive FSP benefits, but they eat and prepare their meals separately. Mr. Marks and his parents have separate FSP cases. The penalty of the son does not affect the eligibility of his parents. Mr. Marks remains ineligible for the remainder of the penalty period unless he complies with the QC review.

Example 3

Mr. Johnson receives FSP benefits with his mother and sister. He refused to cooperate with a federal QC review. He remains in the household. The penalty is effective November 1, 2014. The household is ineligible for FSP benefits for the remainder of the federal fiscal year (September 30, 2015), plus 9 months. The penalty period ends June 30, 2016 unless Mr. Johnson complies with the federal QC review.

NOTE: Federal QC reviews are rare.

Example 4

The household is ineligible for FSP benefits for the remainder of the federal fiscal year (September 30, 2017), plus 125 days. The penalty period remains in effect through February 2, 2018 unless Mr. Williams complies with the QC review.
